

Hour Of Darkness

by JARDINE, QUINTIN

Hour Of Darkness

A woman's body is found washed up on Cramond Island near Edinburgh. She has been mutilated by a ship's propeller, and it's clear her death was no accident. Days later detectives are called to a deserted flat in Edinburgh - the kitchen covered in blood. When the woman's name is revealed it stirs unwelcome memories for those who knew her, Chief Constable Bob Skinner most of all. But Skinner is now based in Glasgow and has no reason to become involved in the case. Yet he does, unwittingly setting in motion a course that will lead him to a personal nightmare and the toughest choice of his life.
